Paul Kariya

- 1993 4th overall pick of the brand-new Anaheim Mighty Ducks
- cute in a very 90s boy way, college boy, soft-spoken and politely Canadian, "reserved", "meticulous"
- Japanese-Canadian, born in Vancouver
- a playmaker, on the 1994 Canadian team, several gold medals at world juniors and worlds

Paul posing with his Hobey Baker award

Young Teemu in a milk advertisement

Teemu Selänne

- 1988 10th overall pick of the Winnipeg Jets
- played 3 years for Jokerit in Helsinki while also working as a kindergarten teacher
- still holds the record for rookie goals and points
- very fast: nicknamed the "Finnish Flash"
- had a secret second career as a semi-legal street racer in Finland under a terrible pseudonym to avoid the ire of the NHL's legal department
- traded in 1996 to the Ducks

And they were room/linemates

- some personality mismatch but mostly Paul helped Teemu be a little less of a loose cannon, and Teemu helped Paul come out of his shell
- hijinks! (ex: getting locked out of hotel rooms and being unable to get back in because they'd given the front desk fake names)
- Teemu: "half my salary is for hockey, half is for making Paul a normal person"
- they "think about hockey the same way"
- Paul: 9, C. Teemu: 8, A

The end

- separated! Teemu gets traded to San Jose, Paul gets hurt in his first cup final (the infamous scott stevens hit and a great example of the NHL being extraordinarily shitty) (they lose)
- reunited! 2003: they sign with Colorado together, but injuries and bad season

- Paul bounces around the league, suffers further concussions, officially retires in 2011, rightfully tears the league a new one on his way out. He has had essentially nothing to do with hockey* ever since, he is currently a surfing hermit somewhere on the california coast
- Teemu goes back to the Ducks, finally winning a Cup in 2007, pretty good end to his carrer, retires in 2014

at the end they had to be physically removed from the ice because they stood there with their arms around each other taking pictures with fans for so long

- * they played together for their induction into the Hockey Hall of Fame in 2017 and it was amazing
- * this tweet??

Pierre LeBrun
@PierreVLeBrun

Hearing that the Anaheim Ducks have formed a GM search committee which includes team CEO Michael Schulman, Scott Niedermayer, Paul Kariya and President of Business Operations Aaron Teats. Obviously owners Susan and Henry Samueli also part of things.

Jack Hughes

- 1st overall in 2019 to the NJ Devils
- hockey family: mother on the national team in the 90's, father was a coach, big brother (Quinn) plays with the Canucks and little brother (Luke) drafted by the Devils, "Hockey is a business"
- USNTDP then straight to the NHL, bad first season, "draft bust"
- looks like he knows that he looks like he belongs in a boysband
- asked at the draft if they could draft his friend (Moynihan), they did

Ty Smith

- 17th in 2018 to the NJ Devils
- Brendan Gallagher, off-season training partner re:watching TV with Ty: "I don't think [Ty's] even watching, he's just totally fine just sitting there. He's pretty low maintenance"
- learned magic tricks on the bus in juniors
- re:his mustache: "I like to think it's pretty good. The boys give it to me a little bit, especially Jack, my roommate. He's been on me to shave the mustache for a little bit here but uh, I think it's kinda funny and I kinda like it."

Together

- fight at the Summer Showcase in 2018
- roommates! Jack drives, Ty cooks, apparently Jack is bad at cleaning. Ty: "[Jack's] room's actually pretty clean right now, he just cleaned it up, sometimes it gets out of reach for him." "We've got him doing laundry now."
- Jack: "Hey, uh, what are you doing?" Ty: "I'm doing a stream - a live stream."
- Jack: "How do you, uh, how do you cook broccoli?"
- cf all the social media posts
- now that Luke is going to be in Jersey, Jack told Ty they're (breaking up) moving out so he can live with Luke at dinner in front of their friends

Rivals to...?

"In aftermath of gold-medal game, six LAK and ANA prospects - Ducks Trevor Zegras and Jamie Drysdale plus Kings Quinton Byfield, alex Turcotte, Arthur Kaliyev and Tobias Bjornfot - will be together on a chartered flight to Southern California to join their NHL camps."

- Bob McKenzie on twitter, 1/5/21

"Not going to say it got off to a rocky start, but, obviously coming off of the WJ loss, it wasn't too fun. It's a lot of fun, like [media] touched on, we're living together. So it's a lot of fun living with him and he's a heck of a player as well."

- Jamie Drysdale on his relationship with Trevor Zegras, in a post-game interview, cited in sticksandfics' primer, sticksandfics.tumblr.com/post/654299369913319424/jamietrevor-primer

"So, basically I was gonna move into my place, right, except I guess my agent messed something up and my lease was never signed. But I called some people, and they said I could stay with you for the time being? Since we both have to quarantine anyways?"

Missed connection

High-performing 10A looking for someone to help him lighten up after another summer training with his childhood idol. Must be okay with eating chickpea pasta and long twitch streams.

Racehorse owner, no-teeth-wearer, team jokster looking for a love that won't easily get ripped away. Often injured, tore his ACL his rookie year in a drunken golf cart accident. Very good with baby defensemen. No talk of draft busts, please.

"I can't really find an off-the-rack pant to fit me. Every time I bend down I feel like I'm going to bust through the seams."

"The first time I wore State & Liberty Stretch Dress Pants, I felt like I could just wear them out of the store."
